Introduction

Finding a scholarship can be a very difficult thing to do. Finding a scholarship that suits your individual needs can be tough too. Finding a scholarship that provides you with all of the resources that you need to attend college for two, four or any number of years is nearly impossible and equally implausible. So, when you sit down to do a scholarship search, you always have to be realistic. Consider all the opportunities that might suit you and don't focus in too much on the dollar amounts that are given. (Sometimes one scholarship opportunity will lead to another.) A two hundred dollar scholarship might not be very impressive in dollar amount, but it can be more valuable to you than just helping you pay for school, it may also open up doors for you in your college life or your desired profession.

Every avenue that you pursue when looking for a scholarship should focus on who you are and what you have accomplished in your life. Accomplishments not only include those things that you have done in the world around you; volunteer work, awards, community service, learned and developed skills, but they should also include things that you have done in your own personal life; raise a family, overcome obstacles and stumbling blocks, traverse great distances or spans of time to re-invest in your education. Lots of organizations are looking to reward a compelling story as much as they are looking to reward great grades and valuable service to the community and the world.

Potential is a powerful motivator to scholarship boards, who review applications. Someone with great potential can inspire a scholarship reviewer to give them the award, by impressively relaying their story to them in a personal statement or a scholarship essay. Both are tools in the process that help to make you more understood by the readers and better qualified to receive some financial support. So, always be sure to write an honest, forthright and well thought out essay/statement that illustrates who you are, where you have been and where you hope to go. (Always include where you hope to study, what you plan to do with the funds and how they will help you to get to the places you want to go in your life and educational career.)

All of that being said you may not find a scholarship that fits you in this packet, but that doesn't mean that there isn't one out there for you. There are resources available in this booklet and at the college to assist you in your search, but ultimately you will have to put in the time and the effort, doing some research, applying to some offices/programs/sites and looking diligently for that scholarship or scholarships that you, yourself might be best qualified for. You are the best advisor for yourself when it comes to looking for aid for college, because you are the only person in the world who knows who you truly are, what you have done concretely and what you need to go after your goals, dreams and desires. Good luck in your search.

American Legion Legacy Scholarship

The American Legion wants to ensure higher education is a possibility for children whose parents have been killed while serving our country. It is a civic duty to provide them with equal opportunity.

The Legion offers its support through the Legacy Scholarship Fund. There has been a significant shortfall in government money allotted to children with parents lost in war. The government gives these children a college education stipend worth slightly more than $37,000. Taking into account living expenses, textbooks and rising tuitions, this benefit covers only a little more than half of college costs in the most affordable situation. And the price tag of higher learning will only continue to rise. The most conservative estimates predict a 5-percent annual increase, meaning that in 16 years the most affordable college education will be $132,800. Obviously, military compensation will not keep up.

Aid offered

The amount of aid and number of awards depend upon the income derived from the trust. Scholarship recipients may re-apply for the award.

Eligibility

Those eligible to apply for the scholarship shall be the child/children or legally adopted child/children or a child of a spouse by a prior marriage or dependent child as defined by the United States Armed Services of active duty United States military and National Guard, and military reservists who were federalized and die on active duty on or after September 11, 2001. The applicant must be a high school senior or high school graduate to apply for the scholarship. Scholarship is for undergraduate study at an accredited institution of higher education within the United States.

Deadline

Application must be post marked no later than April 15.

New applicants are required to complete a NEW APPLICATION. The online application is a fillable PDF and may be completed electronically. The completed application must then be printed in order to submit to The American Legion National Headquarters.

Returning applicants are required to complete a RENEWAL APPLICATION. The online application is a fillable PDF and may be completed electronically. The completed application must then be printed in order to submit to The American Legion National Headquarters.

Barbara Wiedner & D. Vandercook Peace Scholarships *

Since 1993, Grandmothers for Peace International has awarded scholarships to students across the United States. Scholarships have also been awarded to three students in Africa, two students in Kyrgyzstan (formerly part of the U.S.S.R.), and students in Canada, Norway, and the Ukraine.

Eligibility for this scholarship requires evidence of activities or work (volunteer or paid) relating to peace and social justice, nuclear disarmament, and/or conflict resolution. Due to the wonderful generosity of members and friends, we have been able to award a total of 129 scholarships since our inception (including eight for $500). For the coming academic year we again plan to award at least one $500 scholarship.

These are the requirements:

Be a high school senior or in your first year of college. Complete the application form. Write a brief autobiography of your activities relating to peace and social justice, nuclear disarmament issues, and conflict resolution. Include some proof of these activities (e.g., copies of newspaper articles, verification by your references). Include two letters of recommendation. Describe how you will contribute to a peaceful and just society in the future.

There are no grade point or age requirements, and students from any country may apply. Applications must be postmarked by March 1st. Application forms for the coming academic year are now available for downloading.

Students will need to submit proof of college registration before an award is sent to them.

Award: $250 or $500

Critical Language Scholarships

Who Can Apply: US Citizens – Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students – GPA of 3.0 or higher recommended – All Majors

Description: Sponsored by the United States Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, the Critical Language Scholarships Program was launched in 2006. The Program offers intensive summer overseas study in the critical need foreign languages of Arabic, Bangla/Bengali, Hindi, Punjabi, Turkish, Urdu, Chinese, Korean, Persian, and Russian. The Program is part of the National Security Language Initiative (NSLI), a U.S. government interagency effort to expand dramatically the number of Americans studying and mastering critical need foreign languages. Scholarship recipients - U.S. citizen undergraduate, Master's and Ph.D. students and recent graduates - receive funding to participate in beginning, intermediate and advanced level summer language programs at American Overseas Research Centers and affiliated partners. Recipients are expected to continue their language study beyond the scholarship period and later apply their critical language skills in their professional careers. Students in all disciplines including business, engineering, science, the social sciences and humanities are encouraged to apply. Applicants should have a firm intention of continuing language studies after completion of the summer language institutes.

Award: All program costs are covered for participants. This includes travel between the student's home city and program location, pre-departure orientation costs, applicable visa fees, room, board, travel within country and all entrance fees for program activities. Note: U.S. passport fees will not be paid by the scholarship.

CUNY Becas

The Jaime Lucero Mexican Studies Institute's Becas program offers scholarships that range from $4500 to $6030 to CUNY undergraduate and graduate students who meet three criteria: academic excellence, financial need, and commitment to service in the Mexican community. Currently, the scholarship can only be used for tuition. The scholarship primarily aids students with little or no access to other funding sources. Because its emphasis is on financial need and because it does not discriminate based on immigration status, this program has been particularly successful in aiding undocumented students.

Scholarship recipients join the Becari@s Network of current and past Becas recipients. They participate in monthly professionalization seminars and are expected to complete internships for a total of 200 hours in an affiliated nonprofit institution. Students are matched to an internship that suits their interests, professional goals and schedules. The Institute works closely with "Becari@s," scholarship winners, and internship sites to ensure a positive experience on both sides.

Eligibility Requirements:

- Academic excellence
- Financial need
- Commitment to service in the Mexican community.

Application Materials:

- Completed application form
- Most recent transcript
- A letter of recommendation and recommendation form
- Two essays: a personal statement and a financial statement

Scholarship Conditions:

For undergraduate students, the scholarship will be disbursed to the recipient's CUNY campus in two equal installments over the Fall 2015 and Spring 2016 semesters. For graduate students, the scholarship will be disbursed to the recipient's CUNY campus in one full installment. Failure to comply with the following conditions may result in the suspension or revocation of scholarship awards:

- Full-time enrollment at a CUNY school
- Participation in monthly seminars
- Completion of a 200 hour internship in an affiliated nonprofit institution
- Submission of semester academic progress report
- Continuous involvement with the Institute and Becari@s network in events and activities

Additional Information:

Questions can be directed to mexican.studies@lehman.cuny.edu or at 347-577-4080.

Fulbright US Student Program Scholarships

The Fulbright U.S. Student Program provides grants for individually designed study/research projects or for English Teaching Assistantships. A candidate will submit a Statement of Grant Purpose defining activities to take place during one academic year in a participating country outside the U.S.

During their grants, Fulbrighters will meet, work, live with and learn from the people of the host country, sharing daily experiences. The program facilitates cultural exchange through direct interaction on an individual basis in the classroom, field, home, and in routine tasks, allowing the grantee to gain an appreciation of others' viewpoints and beliefs, the way they do things, and the way they think. Through engagement in the community, the individual will interact with their hosts on a one-to-one basis in an atmosphere of openness, academic integrity, and intellectual freedom, thereby promoting mutual understanding. Grant lengths and dates vary by country. Please consult the specific country summary for details.

Types of Applicants

You will apply either through a U.S. institution or At-Large. If you are currently enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate program at a U.S. college or university, you are required to apply through that institution, even if you are not currently resident there. If you are not currently enrolled, you may apply through your alma mater, provided that the institution is willing and able to accommodate alumni applications. All other candidates will apply as At-Large applicants from their states of permanent residence, even if they are currently overseas.

Gloria Barron Prize for Young Heroes

The Gloria Barron Prize for Young Heroes honors outstanding young leaders who have made a significant positive difference to people and our planet. Their leadership and courage make them true heroes and inspirations to us all. Each year, the Barron Prize honors 25 winners nationwide. Half of the winners have focused on helping their communities and fellow beings; half have focused on protecting the health and sustainability of the environment.

Nominations are made by adults who have solid knowledge of the nominee and his or her work, but who are not related to the nominee. This could include teachers, librarians, civic or religious leaders, among others. The Barron Prize relies on thoughtful adults to identify and nominate children from the diverse communities in which they live. The Prize accepts nominations on an annual basis and distributes $2,500 awards every fall. To nominate a young person, the adult nominator must submit a fully-completed nomination packet and references form (received in the Prize office by April 30).

Award: $5,000

Guistwhite Scholarship Program (Phi Theta Kappa)

The purpose of this merit-based program is to recognize the scholarly achievements of Phi Theta Kappa members and enhance members' attainment of baccalaureate degrees. Selection is based on academic achievement, leadership accomplishment and engagement in Phi Theta Kappa programs. Up to 20 members will receive scholarships of $5,000 each, for completion of baccalaureate degrees, awards totaling $100,000. To be eligible, a student must post a minimum 3.5 cumulative GPA and transfer to a college or university upon completion of coursework at a community college. In addition, certain criteria will be required in order to maintain the scholarship (see the disbursements section below). The awards are named in honor of Dr. Jack Guistwhite and his wife, Margaret. Dr. Guistwhite developed the first transfer scholarship designated exclusively for Phi Theta Kappa members.

Eligibility

To be eligible, students must meet the following criteria:

Applicant must be enrolled at community college through December.

Applicant must be an active member of Phi Theta Kappa.

Applicant must be on track to earn a bachelor's degree. Students need to have a minimum of 45 semester (or 60 quarter) college-level credits completed at or transferred to a community college by December 31, 2013 and 53 semester college-level credits (or 79.5 quarter credits) by August 31. (Courses must be college-level. Developmental or remedial coursework, such as pre-algebra or basic writing, will be removed when determining number of credits as well as cumulative GPA.)

Applicant must have a minimum of 30 semester college level credits (or 45 quarter credits) completed at a community college in the last five years (fall 2008 - present).

Applicant must hold a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale in all college-level coursework completed in the last five years (fall 2008 - present), regardless of institution attended. If the student has attended more than one school, transcripts may be recalculated to determine the cumulative GPA for all college-level coursework taken. GPA is evaluated at the point of application and the student must maintain a 3.5 or higher GPA through the fall 2013 semester to remain eligible.

The applicant should expect to transfer to a four-year institution in 2014. At the time of transfer to a regionally accredited four-year institution, the student must be admitted with junior-level status in his/her major program of study and be enrolled in a minimum of six credit hours per semester. If selected as a scholar, proof of enrollment at a senior institution will be requested.

The student must hold temporary or permanent residency in the country of the community college the student is attending or possess a visa considered appropriate by the college. Please see the student application for acceptable documents verifying proof of citizenship.

Must have a community college record free of suspension, probation or other serious disciplinary action.

Nominee must not have a criminal record, and if a convicted felon must have all conditions of sentencing, including probation, completed.

Application

Completed applications should be submitted through the Fall Common Application available online between October 1 and December 2. Late applications will not be considered. The application and all supporting documentation will only be accepted online.

Disbursements

The awards are disbursed in four equal payments of $1,250 per semester for full-time students.

Awards for part-time students will be disbursed in payments of $625 per semester for Scholars taking 6-8 hours and $925 per semester for Scholars taking 9-11 hours.

These amounts will be awarded until the total amount of the scholarship has been disbursed or the student is no longer eligible.

If the student attends an institution that operates on other than a semester basis, the equivalent institutional definitions will prevail.

Certain criteria will be required in order to maintain the scholarship (e.g. 3.0 GPA, no incomplete coursework, minimum enrollment of 6 credit hours, etc.). If selected as a scholar, full details will be provided with winner notification materials.

Intel Science Talent Search

About the Intel Science Talent Search

The Intel Science Talent Search (Intel STS), a program of Society for Science & the Public, is the nation's oldest and most prestigious pre-college science competition. It honors exceptional high school seniors for their scientific research and their potential as future leaders in the scientific community.

Each year, approximately 1,800 students attending American high schools enter the competition in the hope of winning awards. The applicant pool is first narrowed to three hundred semifinalists, who – along with their schools – receive cash prizes. From there, the top 40 candidates are selected as Intel STS finalists and invited to Washington, D.C., to attend a week-long celebration of science and compete for top honors:

The Basic Research Medal recognizes finalists who demonstrate exceptional scientific potential through depth of research and analysis, which is critical to conducting basic or fundamental research.

The Global Good Medal rewards finalists who demonstrate great scientific potential through their passion to make a difference, most notably by seeking solutions to real-world problems.

The Innovation Medal celebrates finalists whose great potential is exemplified by applying the problem-solving aptitude of an engineer through innovative design and creativity.

Inspiring innovation

Since 1998, Intel has sponsored this venerated competition. Now in its 74th year, the Intel Science Talent Search continues to inspire innovation in science, technology, engineering and math, and to recognize notable achievements by the next generation of scientific leaders.

Intel STS alumni have achieved some of the world's most revered scientific honors: twelve have won MacArthur Foundation "Genius" grants, seven have received the National Medal of Science or the National Medal of Technology, and eight have been awarded the Nobel Prize.

Rewarding excellence

This year, the Intel Science Talent Search features a new awards structure that triples the prize money for top winners in three categories.

Basic Research

First Prize: $150,000

Second Prize: $75,000

Third Prize: $35,000

Global Good

First Prize: $150,000

Second Prize: $75,000

Third Prize: $35,000

Innovation

First Prize: $150,000

Second Prize: $75,000

Third Prize: $35,000

The remaining 31 finalists each receive $7,500.

Additionally, every finalist receives:

An all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C.

An opportunity to meet with government officials, including the President or Vice President of the United States

A chance to interact with distinguished scientists and display research at the National Geographic Society

In total, more than $1.6 million in prizes will be awarded at Intel STS 2015.

Jesse Brown Scholarship

The Jesse Brown Memorial Youth Scholarship Program honors young volunteers who are dedicated to serving veterans. Each year, one outstanding applicant receives the top scholarship in the amount of $20,000 to help fund their higher education. In addition, the top winner and parent receives an expense paid trip to DAV National Convention to receive the award and be recognized for their dedication and commitment to veterans. Additional scholarships are awarded in the amounts of $15,000, $10,000, $7,500 & $5,000.

2014's top honor went to Shannon Mathew of Coral Springs, FL., who has volunteered 585 hours over the span of four years at her local VA medical center.

“When I started here, I didn’t want to stop,” Mathew said of her volunteer work with the local VA facility. “Each day, I wanted to wake up early. I wanted to go and just help out.”

The scholarship is open to volunteers age 21 or younger who have contributed a minimum of 100 hours credited through DAV or DAV Auxiliary. Nominations for this award may be submitted by the Voluntary Service Program Manager at a VA medical center, DAV Department Commander, or students may self-nominate themselves with inclusion of an essay on what volunteering for veterans means for them.

Named after former National Service Officer and Secretary of Veterans Affairs Jesse Brown, this award honors the memory of a DAV leader dedicated to serving veterans through recognition of those who carry on his legacy of service.

Eligibility

- Scholarships can be awarded to any volunteer who is age 21 or younger and has volunteered for a minimum of 100 hours at a VA medical center. Volunteer hours can accumulate over time and must be credited to the Disabled American Veterans.

- Volunteer hours accumulated under the DAV's Local Veterans Assistance Program (LVAP) are also eligible for consideration.
- Scholarships can be used at any accredited institution of higher learning; to include universities, colleges, community colleges, vocational schools, etc.
- Scholarships must be utilized in full prior to the recipient attaining the age of 25, or within 6 years of receiving the scholarship, whichever is later.
- Nominations for this award may be submitted by the Voluntary Service Program Manager at the VA medical center, DAV Department Commander, or the student may complete a self-nomination.
- All nomination packets should include a nomination form, essay, and any supporting documentation which you would like to have considered by the Selection Committee.

National Fulbright US Student Program – Grants for Study or Teaching Abroad

Description: The Fulbright U.S. Student Program is the nation's largest study abroad fellowship program, and is designed to give recent B.S. /B.A. graduates opportunities for international experience, personal enrichment and an open exchange of ideas with citizens of other nations. The J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board looks favorably on qualified graduating seniors, who are still in the process of developing specific career plans. The full list of participating countries may be found here. There are two main types of Fulbright grants:

Fulbright Academic Study Grant: These grants generally provide round-trip transportation; book and research allowances; maintenance for the academic year, based on living costs in the host country; supplemental health and accident insurance; tuition, in some cases; and language or orientation courses, where appropriate. Potential applicants should consult the individual country pages for details. Program Preferences: For study grants, evidence of past coursework or research experience (course-related or through internships, employment, etc.) concerning the host country/region and/or the field of study is important. Prior study abroad in the proposed host country or region can be advantageous but is NOT required. For teaching grants, evidence of prior experience in tutoring, team-leading, coaching, teaching, camp counseling or other similar activities is very helpful. Coursework in education or English-as-a-second-language training is NOT required but may be helpful.

Award Amount: In general, Fulbright grants for study and teaching cover the following costs (as applicable): Round-trip transportation to the host country; Maintenance for the academic year, based on living costs in the host country; Medical Insurance; Language or orientation programs, in some cases (see relevant Country Summary for details). Fulbright study grants may also provide: Book and research allowances; Full or partial tuition, in most cases (see relevant Country Summary for details).

Oxfam CHANGE Initiative

Description: The CHANGE Initiative is a highly competitive national program that trains college students to become actively engaged in Oxfam America's social justice mission. CHANGE develops capable leaders, who are informed voices for positive social change, and who inspire greater global awareness in others. CHANGE Leaders are brought together for an intensive week of leadership training that equips them to be effective CHANGE advocates. Students are introduced to social justice issues directly related to Oxfam America's mission, and are asked to work on one or more of these issues on their campus during the academic year. US-based college students entering their sophomore or junior year can take advantage of Oxfam America's leadership training and become skilled and knowledgeable agents of change. CHANGE Leaders use their skills and insight to run Oxfam campaigns on their campuses and in their local communities. Service Obligation: Students must be prepared to implement an Oxfam campaign on their campus or in their community.

Award: Oxfam assumes the cost of training, room and board, and travel.

Deadline: Date to be determined

Paul and Daisy Soros Fellowships

- Every year, The Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans supports thirty New Americans, immigrants or the children of immigrants, who are pursuing graduate school in the United States.
- Each Fellowship supports up to two years of graduate study - in any field and in any advanced degree-granting program - in the United States. Please note that the Fellowship does not cover tuition for executive programs, accelerated Bachelor's/Master's programs, or online degrees.
- Each award is for up to $25,000 in stipend support (not to exceed $35,000), as well as 50 percent of required tuition and fees, up to $20,000 per year, for two years.
- New Fellows join a strong community of current and past Fellows who all share the New American experience.
- The competition is merit-based. Selection criteria emphasize creativity, originality, initiative, and sustained accomplishment. The program values a commitment to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The program does not have any quotas for types of degrees, universities or programs, countries of origin, or gender, etc.
- The top 77 applicants will be designated "finalists" and will be asked to appear for interviews in New York City or California in late-January or early-February of 2016. The Fellowship program will cover travel and accommodation.
- The 30 Fellowship winners, selected from among the 77 finalists, will be notified in March of 2016. They will begin to receive stipend and tuition support from the program in the fall of 2016. If a Fellow is in the second-to-last year of their graduate program in the spring of 2016, when the new class of Fellows is announced, the Fellowship may approve special requests, under certain circumstances, to retroactively activate the Fellowship in order to cover that term.
- The first year of Fellowship funding cannot be deferred.
- Unsuccessful applicants are welcome to reapply in subsequent years if they are still eligible.

Pedro Zamora Young Leaders Scholarship

Dedicated to the continuing legacy of AIDS educator and activist Pedro Zamora, the Pedro Zamora Young Leaders Scholarship Program (Scholarship) seeks to support the academic efforts of emerging young leaders who share Pedro's passionate commitment to ending the HIV/AIDS pandemic.

Soon after learning that he was living with HIV at age 17, Pedro dedicated his life to raising public awareness and arming other young people with the information and tools they needed to avoid HIV infection. At the age of 22, Zamora captivated the nation with his openness, compassion, vitality and charisma when he appeared on MTV's The Real World 3: San Francisco (1994).

Millions of young Americans watched (and through syndication, continue to watch) as this grounded, insightful, gay Cuban-American immigrant – openly living with HIV in a time when the epidemic was often misperceived as a problem mostly for gay white men – left Miami to live with six strangers, amid the constant presence of TV cameras capturing the intimate details of their day-to-day lives. Pedro's participation in The Real World was a strategic extension of the work he had been doing for almost five years.

Long before The Real World, Pedro provided HIV education to thousands of middle and high school students in small group, classroom, and assembly-style settings; trained educators and counselors in regional and national conferences; gave testimony at Congressional hearings on the needs of young people, especially those of young people of color; and battled stigma by sacrificing his privacy to raise awareness through profiles in major newspapers, and nationally broadcast television.

Pedro's work was tragically cut short when he died of an AIDS-related illness in 1994, the morning after the final episode of The Real World aired. The Pedro Zamora Young Leaders Scholarship Program is meant to support and spotlight those young leaders from this generation, whose efforts and leadership continue to carry the torch of young activists like Pedro who fought the HIV/AIDS epidemic of their generation, in ways inspired by their own passions, insights, originality and conviction. The National AIDS Memorial Grove is committed to insuring that the legacy of Pedro Zamora continues and thrives through this Scholarship.

The Scholarship is open to all current high school seniors, and college freshman, sophomores and juniors (ages 27 and younger) who demonstrate an active commitment to fighting AIDS and taking on roles of public service and leadership (e.g. providing peer-based prevention and education; engaging in advocacy or grass-roots activism; raising public awareness; and/or delivering practical, emotional or treatment support to people living with HIV/AIDS), and who plan to continue to find ways to make a difference in the epidemic through their careers or through public service opportunities after their education is complete.

Scholarships range from $2,500 to $5,000

Samsung American Legion Scholarship

Worldwide electronics leader Samsung endowed a scholarship fund of $5 million to be administered by The American Legion in 1996. Meant to show appreciation for U.S. veterans who came to Korea's aid during its struggle against communist forces in the Korean War, the Samsung American Legion Scholarship Program established a series of scholarships derived from interest and other income from the principal amount. In 2012, nine $20,000 scholarships and 88 $1,100 scholarships were awarded.

Eligibility

Scholarships are restricted to high school juniors who complete either a Boys State or Girls State program and are a direct descendant - i.e. child, grandchild, great grandchild, etc. - or a legally adopted child of a wartime veteran who served on active duty during at least one of the periods of war officially designated as eligibility dates for American Legion membership.

Samsung scholarships are for undergraduate study only and may be used for tuition, books, fees, and room and board. Winners are selected according to academic record, involvement in school and community activities, community service and financial need. Applicants who are direct descendants of Korean War veterans will receive special consideration.

Stokes Educational Scholarship Program

About the Program

The Stokes Educational Scholarship Program (formerly known as the Undergraduate Training Program) was proposed and introduced into legislation in 1986. Its purpose is to facilitate the recruitment of individuals, particularly minority high school students, who have demonstrated skills critical to NSA.

Stokes provides a tremendous opportunity to gain valuable experience in your field while attending college and getting a degree. Stokes is open to high school seniors planning on majoring in computer science or computer/electrical engineering.

As an NSA employee with the Stokes Program, you will attend college full-time, receive up to $30,000 per year for tuition and mandatory fees; and work during the summers at NSA for 12 weeks in areas that are related to your course of study. You'll acquire real-world experience and receive a year-round salary. Please note: must maintain a 3.0 on a 4.0 scale after your freshman year, if selected as a program participant, you are required to work in your area of study for NSA after your college graduation for at least one-and-one-half times the length of study. If you leave NSA employment earlier, you must reimburse the government for your tuition.

Application Deadline

Applications are accepted September 1st - November 15th of each year.

Benefits

- Tuition and mandatory fees of up to $30,000 per year at the college of your choice
- Housing and travel entitlements available during summer employment (if the distance between NSA and the school exceeds 75 miles)
- Year-round salary
- Guaranteed continued employment with NSA after graduation
- Receive annual and sick leave and paid federal holidays
- Health and life insurance
- Participation in federal retirement plans

Qualifications for High School Students - You must major in computer science or computer/electrical engineering and meet the following requirements:

- Must be a U.S. citizen
- Must be eligible to be granted a security clearance
- A high school senior at the time of application
- A minimum SAT/College Board score of 1600 (1100 Critical Reading and Math, 500 in Writing) or ACT of 25
- A GPA of 3.0 or above on a 4.0 scale is preferred
- Demonstrated leadership abilities

Computer Science

NSA computer scientists work in such areas as applications programming, computer security and graphics, and the design and implementation of software involving database management systems, real-time systems, networking and distributed processing systems.

Computer or Electrical Engineering

The challenges and experiences in these areas range from pure and applied research, design, development and testing to project management and systems analysis. You will be involved in projects that focus on communication systems, computer security and networking, microprocessor applications, software engineering and optics.

How to Apply

Program applications will be accepted between September 1st and November 15th each year.

Applications must be submitted online and postmarked on or before November 15th. Applications received after the deadline, as well as incomplete packets, will not be considered. To apply for the Stokes Educational Scholarship Program, applicants must first:

- Submit a resume online during open season by clicking any "Apply Online" link. Under "Basic Job Search," type in the keywords "Stokes Educational Scholarship Program" and click on "Search." Select "Stokes Educational Scholarship Program" and click "Apply Now." Follow the directions as prompted.
- Once your resume has been submitted online, please submit the following by mail:
 - Letter of Recommendation from a teacher/counselor/advisor who can attest to your academic ability.
 - One-page essay entitled, "I want a career at NSA because..."
 - An official transcript from your high school which indicates your unweighted cumulative GPA and class rank (if applicable).
 - Photocopy of your SAT/ACT or College Board scores (required for all high school students).
 - Three (3) pages of supplemental information, if desired. This information can be anything that would enhance your application, such as an original essay, etc.

All resumes must include the following information:

Name
Full Address
Phone Number
E-mail Address
Date of Birth

The Jorge Mas Canosa Freedom Foundation Scholarship for Cuban-Americans

To further the education of talented young men and women with leadership potential who, as future leaders in their professional fields, will advance the cause of a free society of responsible individuals, based on the principles and ideals of a democratic, free enterprise society. The Mas Family, and The Jorge Mas Canosa Freedom Foundation – which manages the funds – are committed to these principles; they are eloquent examples of what citizens can achieve in a free society both as individuals and as members of voluntary associations. Through the Mas Family Scholarships, the members of the Mas Family are passing on to others some of the blessings which they received as the fruits of their labors in a free society. The Mas Family Scholarship program, which is funded by the interest generated from a multi-million dollar donation by the Mas family in 1997, is currently the largest scholarship program for Cuban-American students in the country.

Undergraduate and Graduate scholarships are available in the fields of Engineering, Business, International Relations, Economics, Communications, and Journalism. Awards are based on the recipient's academic performance, leadership qualities, potential to contribute to the advancement of a free society, and likelihood of succeeding in the student's chosen career. Each applicant will be evaluated through a two step selection process consisting of: 1.) a preliminary screening committee will analyze and confirm the student's credential (academic standing, grades, financial needs, etc.) and will select a pool of finalists; 2.) a selection committee will make the final determination based on written essays and on character evaluations. The amount of the award will depend on the cost of tuition at the recipient's institution, on his or her family's financial situation, as well as on the amount of funds received by the recipient from other sources. Full scholarships cannot be awarded to students who will be receiving full-tuition scholarships and/or stipendiary support from other sources, although such students are still eligible for partial awards.

The Mas Family Scholarships are awarded for one year and all students are eligible to reapply in subsequent years. Those who have already received awards and have maintained a high level of performance will be given preference over new applicants.

THE LENNY RAVICH "SHALOM" SCHOLARSHIP

Created by Lenny Ravich, Director of the Gestalt Institute of Tel Aviv.

This scholarship is awarded to someone whose work in humor and laughter clearly and tangibly demonstrates a commitment to world peace. For this year, the scholarship recipient will receive complimentary AATH conference registration plus an additional $100 presented on site (in US funds) to help offset other travel costs. Applications from all countries will be considered equally.

Applicants are to submit essay answers (up to 250 words each) to three questions:

- How do you presently apply (or plan to apply) your knowledge and experience in humor and laughter to advance world peace?
- How has your mission and purpose in life brought you to this moment?
- Why do you feel that you are deserving of this scholarship?

This scholarship is awarded to a first-time conference attendee (member or non-member) who is ready to let their L.I.G.H.T shine! In this case L.I.G.H.T stands for Laughter, Inspiration, Giggles, Humor and Togetherness! The scholarship recipient will receive one complimentary AATH conference registration.

Applicants are to submit an essay answer (up to 250 words) and create a short video (under 4 minutes long). Video should be posted to YouTube (youtube.com) or other video-sharing site. Both video and essay answer should convey how you presently (or plan to) let your L.I.G.H.T shine to make the world a better place.

ESSAY:

Submit an essay (up to 250 words) to address this question:

How do you presently (or plan to) let your L.I.G.H.T shine to make the world a better place?

VIDEO:

- Should include you showing or telling us about how you let your L.I.G.H.T. shine.
- Will be judged on content and will not be judged on professional video quality. Web cams and mobile phone uploads will be judged equally with polished HD video.
- Make sure you include "AATH" when you enter in your tags.
- Include link to your posted video (<http://...>) with your e-application.
- Creativity and humor are encouraged. Remember, this is a humor organization!

THE MARGIE KLEIN "PAPER PLATE" SCHOLARSHIP

This scholarship has been added in loving memory of Margie Klein. This scholarship is named after Margie Klein, the mother of Allen Klein, 2005/2006 president of AATH. Throughout the 95-plus-years of her life, Allen's mother continually used her sense of humor and was inspirational in Allen's teaching others about the power of humor. To be considered for this scholarship, applicants must submit an essay describing how humor helped them in work-related situations. Examples can come from the corporate world, the nonprofit arena, or the self-employed. If possible, please provide at least three examples. Essays should range from approximately 250 to 500 words. Judges will use the following three categories to rate each submission:

- Clarity. How well did the candidate explain how humor helped them (or others) in a work-related situation?
- Innovation/originality/creativity. To what extent is the candidate's story or situation original or creative?
- Impact. What additional considerations are relevant to this candidate's application (personal need, impact on others, useable ideas for work-related situations)?

WHY PAPER PLATES?

After her two sons were on their own, Margie got a job at a major household appliance company. As a customer service representative, she got a call from a socialite who complained that she was having an important dinner that night and her dishwasher, with all her dishes in it, was not working. The woman insisted that a repairman be sent immediately. Margie told the irate customer that it was impossible; the repairman would be there in the morning. The woman then shouted, "And what am I supposed to do? I have twelve people coming for dinner tonight and I don't have a clean plate in the house."

Margie calmly replied: "Use paper plates." That was her first and last day on the job.

The Paul and Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans

- Every year, The Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans supports thirty New Americans, immigrants or the children of immigrants, who are pursuing graduate school in the United States. Full eligibility requirements can be found here.
- Each Fellowship supports up to two years of graduate study - in any field and in any advanced degree-granting program - in the United States. Please note that the Fellowship does not cover tuition for executive programs, accelerated Bachelor's/Master's programs, or online degrees.

- Each award is for up to $25,000 in stipend support (not to exceed $35,000), as well as 50 percent of required tuition and fees, up to $20,000 per year, for two years.
- New Fellows join a strong community of current and past Fellows who all share the New American experience.
- The application deadline is November 1, at 11:59 pm EST.
- The competition is merit-based. Selection criteria emphasize creativity, originality, initiative, and sustained accomplishment. The program values a commitment to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The program does not have any quotas for types of degrees, universities or programs, countries of origin, or gender, etc.
- The top 77 applicants will be designated "finalists" and will be asked to appear for interviews in New York City or California in late-January or early-February of 2016. The Fellowship program will cover travel and accommodation.
- The 30 Fellowship winners, selected from among the 77 finalists, will be notified in March of 2016. They will begin to receive stipend and tuition support from the program in the fall of 2016. If a Fellow is in the second-to-last year of their graduate program in the spring of 2016, when the new class of Fellows is announced, the Fellowship may approve special requests, under certain circumstances, to retroactively activate the Fellowship in order to cover that term.
- The first year of Fellowship funding cannot be deferred.
- Unsuccessful applicants are welcome to reapply in subsequent years if they are still eligible.

THE RED SKELTON "CARING CLOWN" SCHOLARSHIP

Created by the Red Skelton Museum of American Comedy (located in Vincennes, Indiana), this scholarship honors Red Skelton's legacy of laughter and compassionate, 'healthy humor.' Though he liked to be introduced simply as "One of America's Clowns," Red was one of the world's most beloved, multi-talented entertainers, a humanitarian and a patriot. This conference scholarship will be awarded to a "Caring Clown," active in hospital and/or community healthcare environments, bringing smiles to patients and/or residents, young and/or old, in need of gentle comic relief. For this year, the scholarship recipient will receive one complimentary conference registration fee and a gift bag of souvenirs from the museum's Gift Shop. The scholarship recipient is responsible for all other conference costs, travel and lodging.

Applicants are to submit essay answers (up to 250 words each) to the following questions:

- How do you presently apply your knowledge and skill in the "Caring Clown" community?
- What prompted you to become a "Caring Clown?"
- In honoring Red Skelton's legacy, why do you feel you are most deserving of this conference scholarship?

Phi Theta Kappa Chapter of Hostos Community College

Mission of PTK – “The purpose of Phi Theta Kappa shall be to recognize and encourage scholarship among two-year college students. To achieve this purpose, Phi Theta Kappa shall provide opportunity for the development of leadership and service, for an intellectual climate for exchange of ideas and ideals, for lively fellowship for scholars and for stimulation of interest in continuing academic excellence.”

The Honors Program

The Hostos Community College Honors Program provides an enriched academic, cultural and social experience to intellectually inquisitive and motivated students in the Liberal Arts (A.A.); Liberal Arts in Science A.S.; Associate in Science in Chemical, A.S; Associate in Science in Civil Engineering or Engineering, A.S.; Associate in Science in Electrical, A.S; Dental Hygiene A.A.S.; Business Management, A.S; Microcomputer in Business, A.A. S.; Accounting, A.A. S.; and Office Technology, A.A.S.

The program offers students an academic environment that values and promotes critical thinking, analytical writing, and research and information competency skills through an innovative and challenging curriculum. Attendance at cultural events, conferences, honors seminars and an Honors Institute provide an intellectual community that encourages and supports students in pursuing their goals.

The program will offer greater academic opportunities to a previously underserved population, to prepare talented and ambitious students for the challenges of higher education, and to support a successful transition to senior colleges and expanded career options. A fundamental program goal is to promote self-confidence and increase self-esteem in students who need the encouragement to excel and the courage to continue their education and fulfill their life goals and dreams.
