Chair Welcome Message

The Natural Sciences Department (NSD) invites the Hostos community to join us in celebrating the 2024 Science Week - Open House. The exciting list of events include Teach-in activities, Conversations with STEM Alumni, Student Research Presentations and Robotics Exhibition, Hostos STEM Olympiad, Science Games, and our keynote speaker presentation on Cancer Research, Awareness, and Wellness in the Bronx. Our NSD mission, aligned with the College mission, is to provide high quality educational programs in Science, Engineering, and Forensic Science as well as support for Associate in Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree, Allied Health Science and Liberal Arts programs. In today's world it is crucial for everyone to have basic scientific knowledge and the skills to understand what is happening around us, and to be able to make informed decisions for the benefit of all. Thus, NSD assists students in developing the ability to analyze the mechanics of the natural and physical environment, learn to think critically, communicate effectively, cultivate an understanding of basic scientific and ethical values, and become responsible citizens of the world. Let's get immersed in the NSD 2024 Sciences Week - Open House and enjoy the fascinating world of science and discovery!

Keynote Speaker

Dr. Bianca Rivera Peña is the Program Manager for the Bronx Oncology Living Daily (BOLD) Program at the Montefiore Einstein Comprehensive Cancer Center, where she works to advance cancer health equity in the Bronx through community outreach. She completed postdoctoral training as an NIH T-32 Fellow and NIH-IRACDA Scholar at Albert Einstein College of Medicine, specializing in cancer translational research in Hematology/Oncology. Dr. Rivera Peña holds a PhD in Biology, with a focus on Cancer Biology, from the University of Puerto Rico, Río Piedras. Her research bridges basic science and clinical applications, with a focus on personalized cancer treatments, genomic profiling, and identifying biomarkers for early detection and prognosis, particularly to address health disparities in minority populations. Dr. Rivera Peña has mentored students at various levels, including underrepresented minorities, through programs like the CUNY Research Scholars Program. She has received several honors, including the Young Investigator Scholarship Award from the Society of Hematologic Oncology and the ASH Achievement Award. Her work has been published in top scientific journals and presented at major conferences. Dr. Rivera Peña is committed to advancing cancer research, improving health equity, and promoting effective, innovative treatment strategies for underserved communities.
